Hi all,

As per the conversation Althea, David, and I had, each region will handle the calls that have come in from our respective regions. I will also handle the questions from regions not in 6, 8, or 9. Althea and I will also explore expanding the capabilities of the call line.

Best,
Rebecca

That's 5:30 central, we'll be in the middle of our ops call. How about 6 central 5 mountain?

Hi all,

Can we have a call to discuss some basic questions and answers/points of contact that the call center can handle - is 4:30 pm mountain time ok? E.g. who do I call in each region to get my water tested, driving people to the website, etc. The call center as I understand it now is not really equipped to handle anything more complicated, but we need to start turning around these questions more quickly. I asked the call center to send me the stuff for R8 so I could take a look and see what kind of questions we're getting.

I really want to get this call center worked out ASAP. There should be more FAQs coming out soon. I worked up a draft script that I don't think is going to work for the contractor to use that is attached - it's too complicated, but that was my idea.

Thanks,
Rebecca

Rough draft of script I've been working on. You will need to engage with Weston and their call center contractor on capabilities. Not sure we can do some of the flow charting you mentioned. We engaged them quickly and did not have a change to specify capabilities. Some mention this morning of being able to transfer r9 Navajo calls to a r9 operator. Also making sure we say this line is not for emergency notification but not mention the NRC number since we don't want them to be inundated.

Pete, I didn't get the name of the contact you mentioned this morning, if you will forward the email.
